

Report from our recent trip to Nepal

In late January 2023, a team of committee members – Trish, Kate, Ali & Marie Lou – travelled to Kathmandu to see the Meg's kids in Noble House for the first time since December 2019.

The children were so thrilled to welcome the visitors into their home and show off their musical, singing & dancing talents! Some of the Outreach and senior students who do not live at the Home were also able to meet with the visitors and they expressed their deep gratitude for the educational support & opportunities afforded to them by Meg's.

They also spent time with some special people to Meg's Children who are in the photos below, our "boots on the ground" in Nepal. These people work in partnership with our committee to ensure that the children in Nepal are having their needs met with the care, support & facilities required of their situations. It was fantastic to be able to see the work that they do and acknowledge their valuable efforts to the ongoing success of our charity.

Trish with Shyam from the Siddhi Memorial Foundation, with whom we have a Memorandum of Understanding that outlines the operational & financial management partnership between Meg's and Siddhi. They signed an updated 5-year MOU during the trip.

The travelling committee members with:

Hari (L), who generously volunteers his time & guidance as an administration advisor for Meg's.

Sagar (R), who was one of the original Meg's Children 18 years ago. He keeps in regular contact with all the children and reports back to us on their progress and plans for future studies.

The children, staff & committee members outside Noble House. We are very grateful for the care that the staff provide to the children in the Home!

The children & Trish were reunited after 3 long years! There were hugs and feelings of joy all round. This picture says it all!

Two of our younger Meg's kids playing a new game. The co-operation & respect for each other among the children & staff is simply wonderful to observe!
